

10*2 MKMOLLtX W .Vvi/'W.W.Y
/WAM/M A''/'A'.

the right of petition was :iekn«»wlt'd;.ct*d, and property was declared inviolable.
Lastly, th»* l*Yeneh nation was made to declare that then* would never rival I th*» Hourbons.

Even before reaching Paris, and while ivstintf on his journey from Elba at Lyons, the seeund rity in Knmee, and tin* ancient capital of the Franks, Napoleon arranged his ministry, and issued sundry decrees, whieh .showed how little his mind was prepared for proceeding aeording to lh«* majority of votes in representative assemblies.

Cambaecres was nained Miuistrro!' Ju.stiee, Pouehr* .Minister of Police (a boon to the Revolutionists). I>avoust appointed Minister of War. l>eerees upon deeives wen* issued with a rapidity whieh showed how laimriously itoictparte had employed those studious lnwrs at Klba whieh h«« was supposed to have dedieated to tin* composition of his Memoirs. They were couched in tlu^ Bunie of ⁴⁴ Napoleon, by thi* jjraei* of <}od, Emperor of Fnucice," aiul wen* <luted on the l.lfli «if March, although not promulgated until the If 1st c»f that tunnth. Tin* •first of these decrees abrogated all eliances in tin* courts of justice and tribunals which hail taken plan* during the absence of Napoleon.
The second hamslteii uiinv all emigrantM who had returned to Franc*e lH*f*»r«* 1HM wit limit. prpi'r authority, and displaced all officers l^loughg to the class of emigrants introduced into the tinny by the King. The third suppressed the Order of St. Louis, tin* white flag, cork-ade, and other lioyal emblems^ ami r«stort«l tin* ti'i-rtiltired banner and the Imperial synilxils of li<»ujij»jirti*'M atitlorify, The same decree* abolished the Swiss (ttmr<I and tin* Iloiisi.-hold troops of the. King.¹ Tlw fiurtli siM|u«»sti'p»ii tin i*fTt*etH of the Bourboim. A sixnilar Ordinance wecfttt^tem! the restored property of emigrant families.

The fifth decree of Lyons HuppmtHwl t!u« unrii»nt itnlility and feudal titles, and formally continued proprietors <>f tia-tional domains in their possessing. (Thin ili*ert»i* v«*ry acceptable to the majority of Krt*nc*hmfl.i.) Tlw sixth tliH;lan*(l sentence of exile against all emigrants nut

<*rusd by Na|Kili*ntt

¹ For information cone«rnlng th« H<iitin*liot«i tr*wi«*tf ilw lloitrIM»iji
ault a recently published work, /, *Rr<ntnvt9 XV